Contract between ACA and its affiliate club associations.

In becoming an ACA Affiliate Club member, the club agrees that all of its members shall also be ACA Associate members. Affiliate clubs will pay the ACA a fee in the amount of $2 for every adult member and $1 for every junior member aged 20 and under. Club members who are fully paid CFC members will be exempted from the fee.

The affiliate club will pass a list of its members to the ACA Executive Director on a quarterly basis or at other intervals mutually agreed upon. ACA will then send an invoice to the affiliate for all the members that a fee should cover.

A copy of the registration form will be provided to ACA in which all club members will agree to: being ACA members and include their addresses, as well as emails and/or phone numbers. Date of birth for junior members should be provided as well. A disclaimer indicating that all personal information will be protected under the Personal Information Privacy Act, should be included in the registration form.

ACA will provide the affiliate club and its members with the following:

- 1) Payment of the CFC rating fees of the club's junior tournaments, provided that:
 - a) All the participants are aged 20 and under.
 - b) The time control is at least 15 minutes per side for the game or equivalent.
 - c) The tournament is at least 4 rounds long (this rule can be waived upon an organizer's request).
 The CFC rating fees charged for junior events are normally $0.50 per participant plus tax.
- 2) Once a year, an experienced ACA Tournament Director will hold a workshop for club members interested in directing events.
- 3) The Club ad will be listed on the ACA website.
- 4) The Club ad will be listed in the Alberta Chess Report magazine.
- 5) Copies of the Alberta Chess Report magazine will be provided to the club.
- 6) A club with at least 10 members will be eligible to host at least one ACA sponsored event per year. In an ACA sponsored event, ACA will fund: rating fees, tournament director fees and venue rental costs.
- 7) ACA will consider all reasonable budgetary proposals made by its affiliates during the ACA's annual budget meeting.
- 8) ACA will provide non-financial support such as: equipment loans, on at needs basis.
